

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SMRP and ABRAMAN Partner to Strengthen Global Maintenance and Asset Management

Washington DC, November 14, 2024 – The Society for Maintenance & Reliability Professionals (SMRP) and the Brazilian Association of Maintenance and Asset Management (ABRAMAN) are excited to announce a strategic partnership to advance the fields of maintenance, reliability, and asset management on a global scale. This collaboration provides a robust framework for cooperation, enabling both organizations to support professional excellence and innovation across industries.

Through this partnership, SMRP and ABRAMAN will work closely to promote and recognize certifications, exchange knowledge, and participate in each other's major events, including the SMRP Annual Conference and the ABRAMAN Congress. Members of both organizations will benefit from special access to resources, professional certifications, and industry insights that are critical for enhancing operational efficiency and sustainability.

"With shared values and goals, our partnership with ABRAMAN reinforces SMRP's commitment to fostering global standards and best practices in maintenance and reliability," said Erin Erickson, SMRP Executive Director. "Together, we aim to support professionals worldwide in achieving excellence."

As part of this collaboration, ABRAMAN members will receive discounted access to SMRP certification exams, including the Certified Maintenance & Reliability Professional (CMRP) and Certified Maintenance & Reliability Technician (CMRT) exams, offered in multiple languages. In turn, SMRP will gain access to ABRAMAN's insights and expertise in the South American market, enhancing its global footprint and expanding opportunities for members to engage in valuable networking and professional development.

About SMRP:

Founded in 1992, SMRP is a nonprofit professional society dedicated to advancing excellence in maintenance, reliability, and physical asset management across industries worldwide. SMRP is an authoritative voice in the field, offering globally recognized certifications, educational resources, and industry advocacy.

About ABRAMAN:

Founded in 1984, ABRAMAN is the premier association for maintenance and asset management professionals in Brazil, bringing together companies, institutions, and professionals to advance industry standards, promote innovation, and enhance the competitiveness of organizations through best practices in asset management.
